

---

Mark Honecker

Executive Director U.S. Fleet Forces Command

Mr. Honecker currently serves as the Executive Director for U.S. Fleet Forces Command where he leads a headquarters staff of over 900 military and civilian personnel responsible for generating ready Navy forces for global employment, operational and planning support for Combatant Commanders to include Maritime Homeland Security, safe operations of the Atlantic Fleet and advising the Chief of Naval Operations current and future needs of the Fleet.

Mr. Honecker was appointed to the Senior Executive Service in September 1998 and has 24 years of Federal Service.

Mr. Honecker served as the Deputy Commander, Naval Network Warfare Command from April 2005 to May 2006. In this capacity he provided leadership in Navy network operations, space operations and Information Operations to more than 15,000 military and civilian personnel located in over 20 countries, supporting 290 ships, and approximately 900,000 computer network users, all globally dispersed.

In December 1999, Mr. Honecker was selected to establish and lead the Logistics Planning and Innovation Division for the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (Fleet Readiness & Logistics). In this capacity, he was responsible for Logistics Strategic Planning, promoting innovation and process improvement throughout Navy logistics, shaping and managing the Readiness and Logistics IT portfolio, development and implementation of acquisition logistics policy, and management and oversight of the PPBS process. Mr. Honecker also served as the Chief of Naval Operations principal executive responsible for Sea Enterprise implementation. In this capacity he led the effort to understand the business of the Navy.

In September 1998, Mr. Honecker was selected for appointment in the Senior Executive Service. Mr. Honecker's initial assignment was as the Executive Director for the Shore Installation Management Division for the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (Logistics). In this capacity he directed all facets of shore installation management including base operations support, quality of life for Sailors and their families, force protection, regionalization and infrastructure efficiency initiatives such as strategic sourcing.

In January 1996, Mr. Honecker was selected by the Deputy Under Secretary of the Navy to be part of the Department of the Navy (DON), Management and Infrastructure Team to lead the DON in improvements in efficiency and effectiveness. Upon completion of this two year assignment, Mr. Honecker served as the Deputy Director for the Business and Civilian Resources Division in the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Financial Management and Comptroller).

Mr. Honecker began federal service in 1985 as a Financial Management Intern with the Office of the Navy Comptroller (NAVCOMPT) with assignments throughout the Department of the Navy to include Headquarters, Systems Command, Congressional Liaison, and Fleet Offices. His extensive experience in the U.S. Marine Corps, Weapons, and Other Procurement sections led to his selection as the Lead Research and Development, Lead Aircraft Procurement Analyst, and subsequent promotion to the Head of the Aviation and Weapons and Other Procurements Branch in the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Financial Management and Comptroller).

Mr. Honecker graduated with honors from Pfeiffer University in Misenheimer, North Carolina with a bachelor's of science degree in both business administration and economics. Additionally, he holds a master's degree in public administration from The American University and is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Seminar XXI program in Foreign Politics, International Relations and National Security. Mr. Honecker is also a 2009 graduate of the Hampton Roads CIVIC Leadership Institute.

Mr. Honecker was awarded the Presidential Rank of Meritorious Executive and also recognized with the Presidential Rank of Distinguished Executive. His personal awards also include the Department of the Navy Superior and Meritorious Civilian Service Medals, two Meritorious Unit Commendations, and Department of the Navy e-Gov Awards. He has served on several Civic Committees and Board of Directors to include the Supervisory Committee of the Navy Federal Credit Union.